Safe Stolen And Store Rummaged

Burglars entered the premises of Farmer's Hardware Sunday night and after opening large safe made away with a smaller safe, which was later found in F. Caldwell's field. Nothing else was reported missing.

Admittance to the store was made through a window at the back of the store. Files and papers were strewn about the floor of the office.

The first attempt of the burglars was made on McCullough's store. They were thwarted in their effort by Mr. W. Anderson, who resides above the store. Indications also show that an attempt was made on Stephenson's old store.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Russian Wheat and Canadian Farmers.

Much has recently appeared in the press showing a picture of Russian wheat production by the collective farms that would make it appear that Canadian wheat growers may have difficulty in competing with this type of farming. An article recently appeared in "Scientific Agriculture," written by Dr. James G. Dickson, plant pathologist of the university of Wisconsin, U.S.A., who recently made a very extended trip into Russia, investigating and observing their agriculture. Dr. Dickson's conclusions are as follows, in referring to the Soviets Collective Farm method of wheat production:

"They (the Soviets) are producing cheaper grain with this soil mining machine, but at a sacrifice of human individualism, human advancement and soil fertility. It is only a matter of time until the system must be modified to meet human demands, as well as those of soil fertility. First there will be the showing up, if not abandonment, of the introduction of labor-saving machinery on the farms. The crops, especially grain produced, are not sold for big enough prices to pay for the purchase of machinery and labor is so plentiful and cheap that the use of costly machines cannot be justified. American agricultural readjustment is possible without loss of individualism and without lowering the standard of living. Farm industrialization as found in Soviet Russia with the subsequent sacrifice of individual existence and of home life to the dictates of the mass will never meet the standards of living set by the Canadian or the United States farmer."

The solution of the problem depends upon the North American farmer. The high degree of intelligence of this large class of industrial people is sufficient assurance that the problem is being coped with and will be satisfactorily solved, quite aside from whether the Soviet Russian Agricultural programme is on a legitimate economic basis and whether permanent or temporary in its duration."

These conclusions and opinions voiced by Dr. Dickson, who is very competent and able agricultural observer, coincide exactly with the opinions expressed over and over again by Major H. G. Strange, director of our research department, as a result of a particular study and investigation he has made into the wheat growing methods of those countries that are competing with Canada for the world's import markets. Major Strange's opinion is that the Canadian wheat farmer can easily compete with the wheat growers of any other country in the world, including Soviet Russia—Scars Grain Report.

Maybe the reason Gandhi refuses to wear pants is the fear that someone may give him a kick in 'em.—Motordom.

When Pride Falls

A pompous individual was fond of reminding his acquaintances that he was and would be envied to no man.

The same gentleman crawled underneath his car every 1,000 miles to release the drain plug.

The traffic officer raised his hand and the lady motorist stopped with a jerk. Said the officer, as he drew out his little book: "As soon as I saw you come round the corner, I said to myself, 'Forty-five feet.'

Woman Driver: "Officer, you are very much mistaken; it's this hat that makes me look so old."

Canadian press despatch from Ottawa on Thursday puts the prairie wheat crop, at the final estimate for 1931, at 279 million bushels. This is an increase from 229 million bushels to higher acreages revealed by the census in Saskatchewan and Alberta and higher yields per acre reported in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The increases in production estimates amount to one million bushels in Manitoba, 15.7 million bushels in Saskatchewan and 15.9 million bushels in Alberta.

Expect advice on the best way to finish your turkeys as follows:

Hot mush in the mornings. Whole grain at noon. Cold mush at night. And don't shut your turkeys up as close confinement only tends to make your turkeys nervous and off their feed.

Don't Attempt Too Much

In these days everybody is, or at least should be, learning some valuable lessons in the economics of business and work which should assist him in the years to come. The experiences of today are, undoubtedly, revealing what had been avoided, would not have been learned, or some of the difficulties of the present. Countless thousands of people are being compelled to make drastic retrenchments in the conduct of their business, living expenses, etc., which would not have been necessary had reasonable retrenchments been made in years gone by and a curb placed upon the satisfaction of taste demands. The result is that "We are again" will be they caught doing what they formerly and mistakenly did do.

The varying detail of the great lesson which experience is teaching us cannot be discussed in one article or possibly in one hundred articles. But reading a recent magazine article dealing with the life experiences of one man is not too bad. The tale told of a man who was very young and old, and whom he considered most important lesson he had learned in school or out, the thought presents itself that in this new Western country perhaps a goodly number of people have made the mistake which this man early in life learned to avoid. At all events the incident is, we believe, worth repeating here.

The very memory successful man in whom reference is made was set to work by his father thinning out the growing peaches from trees that were too heavily laden. The boy protested to his father that he did not see any sense in so doing, and asked: "Why not let them all grow and have them all ready?" "All right," replied the father, "We'll try it both ways. One tree won't bear." That's right, the boy thought. The next year, thin out so that the only peach left will be at least six inches apart. That'll be my tree. And we'll see what'll happen." The boy, now grown to successful manhood, says he watched the fruit grow and ripen and at last the fruit was ready to pick. "My tree," he says, "yielded about six bushels of fine, ripe fruit. All the other trees in the orchard had dropped their fruit and left mine to struggle alone with more than it could handle."

And all that this wise father said to his boy: "Trees are a lot like people. If you want to get good work out of them, you have to find out how much work they can do and then give them just that much work to do. If you try to work them too hard, you'll spread their energy all along the line and give you second-rate results."

The question is: Have not too many of us here in the West spread ourselves out too much, instead of confining ourselves to the main job? In an intense desire, a laudable ambition, to get on, we have not attempted to grow, develop, or expand our business to the point where we can successfully apply to these various fields and then truly succeed? For example, how many of us yielded to the very natural temptation to acquire more land than we can successfully cultivate, rather than be content to work at its capacity the old original quarter or half section? Would we not be better off today had we resisted that temptation to spread out, to take on too much?

And is not this simple illustration of increase of acres acquired, this spreading out of our energies which such increase entailed, merely an illustration after all of other tendencies in our life which, when the first checked, or difficulties arise, lead us in trouble beyond our capacity to handle?

Each man doing his own particular job and doing it well, rather than attempting several jobs and doing all of them in an inferior way, is the sound, safe way—the way which, in the long run, achieves the largest measure of success.

Showed Originality

Illinoian Woman Accused Of Singing Insults At Neighbor

Mrs. Elfreda Dohring of Evanston, Illinois, says she doesn't like to be insulted in the key of "F" or any other musical scale.

So she went before Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter and swore out a warrant for her neighbor, Mrs. Pearl Dohring, saying that for two years Mrs. Dohring has been hurling insults at her from her back porch.

Sometimes, she said, the insults were by implication in popular songs and sometimes Mrs. Dohring had made up her own songs.

Palm Prints As Detectors

Just As Infallible As Finger Prints

Police prints as opposed to fingerprints are the latest in the first time in a court of law when a prisoner admitted guilty at the Old Bailey to house-breaking and shoplifting.

The Recorder asked whether palm-prints were as infallible as finger-prints. The witness said that the matter had been studied by Scotland Yard for some time, the conclusion being in the affirmative.

Nearly 100,000 people in the Barcelona district of Spain are working in textile mills.

Basic economic conditions in Japan are reported to be improving.

Condition Not Alarming

Alberta Does Not Fear Grasshopper and Cut Worm Outbreaks Next Spring

No alarm is felt regarding the possible future outbreaks of grasshoppers and cutworms, at present, H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Alberta, informed the Canadian Press.

"We have information that there are no locusts in the country and no alarm is felt regarding the cutworms in the southern part," said Mr. Craig.

"But it is not alarming for our experts have large stores of poison bait and prepared for just such an emergency."

"Every year we have some trouble with cutworms and they are likely to be found fairly numerous this year," said Mr. Craig. "But there is no alarm of any kind."

A Glass Of Cold Milk

School days are many days and many, so, because no other food is as nutritious, healthy and satisfying as milk. When the boy or girl comes home from school at four o'clock they are hungry and tired and need a quick meal. A glass of milk is the most healthful and easily prepared food she can provide.

So Short Of Breath Would Have To Sit Down

Mr. C. M. Stroder, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"I could hardly walk and, after going up or down a few flights of stairs or down a flight of stairs, I would be all out of breath."

I could hardly go down town for if I walked two or three flights of stairs I would be all out of breath.

Clause Again In Use

War In Manchuria Boosts Insurance Rates For Pacific Shipping

quoted by companies dealing with Pacific shipping, it is announced.

Although the war clause has been in all insurance policies it has been inactive since the end of the Great War. When the last conflict broke out, the war risk rate to the Orient was as high as 2½ per cent, owing to the presence on the Pacific of German raiders.

The insurance companies announce that war insurance will be applied on cargo from Hong Kong northward, the scale increasing in proportion to the risk. Hong Kong is low, the rate increasing to 10 per cent, and so on. The rate jumps, approaching a full one per cent, for Harbin, where actual hostilities affect freight movements.

FASHION HINT

"How to make my old short skirts conform to the new length" was the problem to me until I hit on this plan. I dropped the hem, and as the skirt was longer than the rest, it was darker than the rest. I redyed the entire dress, after having bleached the entire garment, and then recolored the Diamond Dyes package.

"I used Diamond Dyes for the red, and Diamond Dyes for the blue. I dyed many things with these wonderful colors. They have saved me many headaches, and I am sure they will give perfect results—smooth, even colors—fast to wash, and very durable. Friends, try them. They are a new idea ready to tint them with Diamond Dyes. They do give the most gorgeous colors."

A Debatable Question

BUt Drafted In Old Country To Make Voluntary Euthanasia Legal

The Medical Officer of Health for Leicester has drafted a bill to make voluntary euthanasia legal.

The bill is to be introduced into the House of Commons by the Minister of Health at the earliest opportunity of the moment, and, of course, the bill in question stands not the smallest chance of passage into law at present, and will very likely never be introduced into the House of Commons, but it is to be used to stimulate a serious discussion of a problem far too long deliberately side-tracked.

The proposal that a person suffering from an incurable and painful disease should be permitted, after legal authorization based on the most exhaustive examination of the case, to pass painlessly out of life in his own desire and through the aid of a physician, is a new idea in the field of law, of medical and of social science, and it is to be hoped that the medical and social objections and traditional prejudices will be ranged against it.

There are few who would care to propose such a bill, but it is to be hoped that the proposal or for it without profound and anxious reflection. But Dr. Millard, by once giving the idea of euthanasia concrete form, has made it certain that the subject will be seriously explored.—London Spectator, London, England.

Heads Welfare Agency

HON. T. A. CREEER TO Direct New Organization in Winnipeg

Mr. Alfredo G. Stalnforth, Dominion Minister of Agriculture and Minister of Railways and Canals, has made a new organization of Winnipeg social agencies called the Greater Winnipeg Welfare Committee.

The new organization's direction representatives as far as possible to the betterment of conditions among the unemployed of the city and surrounding municipalities. Schemes to provide employment for the unemployed, to assist the aged, to keep up the morale of the workless men and women will be inaugurated by the committee.

Certain medical conditions must exist in the stomach and intestines to encourage worms, and they will exist in a human body unless certain conditions permit them to.

"To be rid of them and share the child suffering, we must correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favoring the worms, the child suffering, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause."

Aleady Dead

A certain Missouri editor refuses to publish obituary notices of people who, while living, failed to subscribe to his newspaper, and, in this pointed reason: "People who do not take their home town paper are dead anyway, and their passing away has no news value."

"Doctor, isn't it true that we can live without the appendix?"

"Yes, the patient can, but for us surgeons it is indispensable."

I took several boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and am glad to say I have been totally relieved of my trouble."

CONSTIPATION

Banished for 20 Years

No one could have had more trouble with constipation than I did.

My method of correcting the trouble would surely not right anybody who had not suffered from it. I am now approaching my 40th birthday and have used Krukenbach Salts for constipation. This was after a pill compounded to a prescription, but which, at times, had a weakening effect. I tried a bottle of Krukenbach Salts, and since then have had 20 years of trouble free—have used nothing else. My doctor does the hot water at 7.45 a.m.

The six salts in Krukenbach are Nature's own prescription for the cure of constipation. They are properly but surely expelling all poisonous waste matter every day, and are the best laxative known. A bottle of Krukenbach and the road to perfect health.

Medical Scientists Make

Important Discovery

Believe They Have Found Preventive

For Infantile Paralysis

By making young monkeys too old for their age, two medical scientists at Columbia University have discovered a phenomenon which they hope may eventually lead to a powerful preventive weapon against infantile paralysis.

Dr. C. W. Jungelblut and Dr. E. T. Engel injected extracts from the aged monkeys into the spinal fluid and rats into immature monkeys of a type similar to the juvenile period when human children are most susceptible to the scourge. Then they injected the monkeys with a strong dose of infantile paralysis virus from human beings.

Instead of dying, as other monkeys had when subjected to the virus, the aged monkeys survived. The extract of the aged monkeys' spinal fluid apparently destroyed the virus of the human extract, thus rendering the disease entirely in some cases and developed only a passing attack of the paralysis in others.

"You know perfectly well what I meant," she answered, a tremor born of anger and wounded feeling in her voice. "You thought I was impulsive—trivial, and you were right."

"Well—" hummed she. "You were, weren't you?" Then, as her lip quivered sensitively, "Ahh! Forgive me for teasing you! And—" more earnestly—forgive me for not telling you my secret. It was a secret letter, a secret that you should not know. Remember, we can only have this one day together; we're just 'ships that pass.'"

"I know. I know. I only had a bath, old salts—it's dreadful to think."

And herelets are dead forgotten."

There was an undercurrent of deep sadness in his voice, the steadfast, submissive sadness of a man who has long ago sublimated endurance for reason.

"Remember, we can only have this one day together." The quiet utterance of the words stung Jean into a realization of her own innocence, and suddenly she was conscious of the knowledge that this unknown Englishman was going away—going out of her life as abruptly as he had come it and that with a quite different proportionate sense of loss. She found herself unexpectedly up against the recognition of the fact that she would miss him—that she would like to see him again.

"Then—you want me to forget?" she asked rather whitely.

Her eyes fell away from his as she spoke.

"Yes," he returned gravely. "Just that. I want you to forget."

"And you?" The words seemed dragged from her without her own volition.

"Oh!—he laughed a little—"I'm afraid I'm not very good. I'm going to ask you to give me something I can remember. That'll even matters up, if you forget and I—remember."

"What do you want me to give you?"

He made a sudden step toward her, "I want you to dance with me—just once."

"Will you?"—intently. He waited for her reply, his keen, compelling glance fixed her face.

Then, as though he read her answer there, he stepped to her side and held out his hand.

"Come," he said.

Almost as if she were in a dream, Jean laid her head lightly on his sleeve and he pulled aside the portiere for her to pass through. Then, putting his arm about her, he swung her out on the smooth floor of the "salle."

BABY FRETTFUL, RESTLESS?

Look for this cause

When your baby fusses, noises and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause: doctors say constipation is the chief cause of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a child a regular, helpful diet, and you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure, vegetable diet, free from harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young baby. It is as safe as it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regular diet helps bring regular comfort and peaceful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the same:

CHILDREN GROW FOR IT

W. N. 11. 1917

They danced almost in silence. Somehow the customary small-change of ballroom conversation would have seemed irrelevant and apart. This seemed English and had invited as much—was in the nature of a fact. It was the end of their stolen day.

It was over at last. The three final chords of the "Value"—inexorable Death knocking at the door—dropped into silence, and with the end of the song, the last gasp of a gay young voice, as the couple drifted out from the "salle" in search of the buffet or of secluded corners in which to "sit out" the interval, according to the spirit of the occasion.

On coming, the Englishman had taken her by surprise, but Jean was too busy, too intent on her own happiness, and her partner, making that way through the throng, encountered Madame de Varigny on the arm of a handsome Bedouin Arab. For the fraction of a second her eyes rested curiously on Jean's partner, and then, as he turned, she saw the triumph flickered across his face. But it was over in an instant, and, murmuring some commonplace to Jean, she was on her way.

"Who was that?"

The Englishman rapped out the question harshly, and Jean was struck by an unaccustomed note in his voice. It held apprehension, distaste, she could not analyze the quality.

"The Cheaper, I suppose," she said.

"That was my charwoman, the Comtesse de Varigny. Why do you ask?"

"I have a short, rather whitely laugh."

"No particular reason," he returned with some constraint. "She reminded me—extraordinarily—of someone I used to know that's all. Even the name."

"Cheaper," she mused. "What was that?"

Frequent Coal Mine Accidents

Take Lives Of 100 Men Monthly In United States

Too much important news is in the air for many of us to pay attention to the burial of six more coal miners as gas explosion near Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Four were dead when rescuers reached them, and only two were saved.

Despite safety campaigns, more than 1,000 miners are killed each month in American coal mines. Coal mine accidents killed 107 men in September, 112 men in August. In the first nine months of 1935, the toll was 1,079 men.

It takes every tonne of soft coal mined three miners must give their lives, for every tonne tons of anthracite six must die.

Pre-Winter Fire Prevention Drive

Hon. J. F. Bryant Issues Appeal To Saskatchewan Residents

Making a final drive to stir Saskatchewan residents to concerted pre-winter fire prevention activities, in order that premium rates on fire insurance might be reduced, Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister in charge of fire prevention in Saskatchewan, has issued the following appeal to the general public:

"In view of the large increase in residential fires in recent years, and the fact that the high premium rates on fire insurance are the result of past experience in the matter of fire losses, where the lack of care of the man adds to the burden borne by the insurance companies against loss by fire, I venture once again to suggest to the homeowners of Saskatchewan the desirability of knocking up once more on the heating system and the various heating set-ups in order to assist in keeping down the fire losses in Saskatchewan during the winter months.

The survey recently conducted by the Weather Bureau soon will disclose the fact that approximately one-fourth of the State's losses of Canadian pilots, officials of the Brook Airways, Limited, or Prince Albert, announced their chief pilot, Captain W. H. Smith, in the 12 months since October 5, 1930, has spent 920 hours in the air carrying 600,000 pounds payload and about 1,000 passengers.

The flying was done in all kinds of weather, in all kinds of winter and in carrying cargoes of various sorts into Tsoatoa, Alberta, this spring. This summer Broach was on the aerial forest patrol in northern Saskatchewan. Company officials believe this may be a world record.

A few minutes' attention to removing these causes, and a few cents spent on new stove pipes, or on a heating system where the stove or furnace is near the woodwork, will save many Saskatchewan homes this winter. One Saskatchewan home was burst down every day last year. See that your home is safe.

Winter Cruises to Sunny South

Arranged by the Cunard Line

An extensive winter cruise programme of twenty-one "Cunard" cruises to the West Indies, eight to ten days in duration, eleven cruises to the West Indies varying in length from four to three-thirteen days; four cruises to the South American coast; and cruises around the world, is announced for the Cunard Line by Arthur Randell, general manager of the Cunard Line in London.

"Franconia" will sail on her annual around the world cruise on January 9th, returning to New York on March 27th after having visited a large number of ports never visited by any other world-cruising liner.

Four cruises to the Mediterranean are scheduled commencing with the "Caronia" from New York on December 18th, to be followed in January by the "Transylvania". On February 4th, and March 6th, the "Aquitania" will make two cruises to the Mediterranean.

"Samaria" will make the Mexico-South America cruise of fifty-seven days, and passengers will and "37 varieties" of new scenes and sights on the cruise. The "Samaria" will sail on February 6th.

The West Indian cruises will be carried by the "Mauretania," "Caronia," "Aquitania," "Scythia," "Franconia," and "Berengaria" commencing with the "Mauretania" on November 18th and finishing with the "Scythia" when she sails from New York on April 16th.

The "Millionaire" cruises will be made by the "Transylvania" and the "Caledonia". Both these ships will make the first of the cruises on December 24th and the "Caledonia" will make the last on April 22nd.

Besides, all these cruises a regular weekly service will be maintained between New York and Bermuda with a call at Nassau by the "Scythia," "Carinthia," and "Caledonia". The "Princess" cruises will indicate the trend of the lines for short holidays in the winter time to the sunny climes of the south and the bookings already indicate a most successful season.

Grading Helps Exports

Standardized Grading Of Eggs Has

Dependable quality is an advantage in the export market. During the past year, from October 1930 to October this year, exports of eggs from Halifax to Britain have steadily increased, while a reduction in lower prices enjoyed by competing export products. This is a fine indication of the value of standardized grading for eggs and also of the beneficial government regulation of the export market. Canadian exporters have secured the confidence of the British market in the quality of their product and the reliability of our grades. The same is true with regard to the export of eggs to Canada, where there is a growing confidence with the result that important new markets for Canadian eggs are developing.

PAUL'S LETTER TO PHILEMON

Golden Text: "There can be neither bond nor free . . . for ye all are one man in Christ Jesus." — Galatians 3: 28.

Lesson: Philemon.

Devotional Reading: 1 John 4:7-13.

Explanations and Comments

Introduction. To the Letter, verse 1—Paul, left behind by Philemon in the hand of Tychicus, who was going to Colosse and Laodicea, had written to the other church there. Timothy was with Paul and joined him, "a brother, a servant of Christ, and a beloved man of mine, who is sent by me to you for the church that met in his house.

Thanksgiving For Philemon's Faith. Paul, in this letter, calls Philemon a man of means, possibly one of the converts of Paul during his stay in Ephesus, and one whom he esteemed and tenderly loved by the apostle because of the way Philemon had received him when he first came to Ephesus. Paul was the meeting place of the Christians in Colosse. Paul in his diary has written that he had been staying in Ephesus for three years. Paul had been greatly grieved by the conduct of the Christians in Colosse, and had written to them to rebuke them for their lack of love and for their lack of love for God.

"Hearing thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward me, I thank God, and I pray for you all the time. The arrangement may have been intended to suggest to the saint that he had a love for the saint, and that he had a love for God. Jesus: that the source and cause of his love was his religion, and that without religion there would have been no love of his religion and sprout out of his religion. The reason for his lavish kindness to the saint is that he had a love for God, and that he had a love for the saint, and that he had a love for God.

"The designation of Philemon as a man of means may have been a co-operation at a former time. But more probably the phrase, like 'the good soldier of Jesus Christ' and 'the fellow-soldier', is but Paul's grateful affectionate way of lifting these people out of their narrowness by associating it with his own. In his little store, and in his little church, he had a love for all. All who toll for furtherance of Christ's Kingdom, whether they may be parted by time or distance, are fellow-workers." — The Expositor's Bible.

A Great Indian Traveller

Sir Jangir Kohari Has Been Found

World Ten Times

• One of the world's greatest travellers, recently found dead in England. He is Sir Jangir Kohari, immensely rich Indian merchant who rendered valuable services to the Empire during the war. He has been round the world twice, and has made several journeys into the wastes of the Arctic, as well as to the cannibal islands of the Pacific. His travels have involved him in many adventures. As a boy he was rescued from a shipwreck at sea, and was in Yokohama during the disastrous earthquake of seven or eight years ago, and on his next visit to Japan he witnessed the great fire at Kobe. Soon after the war he was sent to Europe, and he has been to every continent, and has travelled to the far corners of the world. He has been knighted in 1921.

Dirigible Scrapped

Dismantled R-100 Being Sold For Scrap Metal

The dirigible R-100 is being sold for scrap metal, the British Air Ministry has announced.

The R-100 cost more than $2,000,000, which sum is being brought in.

The dirigible made only one notable flight, from England to Canada in the summer of 1930.

The R-101, which had been in use since October 1930, in which at most 50 persons were killed, has been agitated against the use of dirigibles in the air force. Several times the agitation came up in the House of Commons.

When Viscount Philip Snowden, who was recently raised to the peerage, introduced his last budget, he announced that the R-101 would have to be scrapped, and that the mothers and fathers of the R-101 would be retained.

The dirigible was completed November 28, 1929. Aside from its Canadian trip she made few trips except on test journeys over England.

A new telephone service on trial in Holland permits from three to six persons to talk with each other over a distance of one mile. The new service is fine for making wide-scale commercial and public wide-area conferences at without going from the office.

RUSSIA IS ASKED TO KEEP OUT OF MANCHURIA

Tokyo, Japan.—A crisis warning that serious complications will result if Russia sends troops into north Manchuria was dispatched to Moscow, by the Japanese Government. The Japanese ambassador at Moscow was instructed to convey the warning to Maxine Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs.

The ambassador was directed to inform M. Litvinoff that no damage was done to the Chinese Eastern Railway during the advance of General Honjo's Japanese troops to Tientsin. The railway is jointly operated by Russia and China.

The railway, the Japanese note, had been used for the transportation of Chinese troops.

It is reported that Japan is "manufacturing" rumors of Russian assistance to China.

A proposal that investigators visit China proper as well as Manchuria was looked upon with favor.

"We are eager to restore our relations with China," a government spokesman said, "but we are in no hurry to discuss the five points (stipulated by Japan as peace conditions)."

Washington, China—China intends to continue her resistance against Japan in Manchuria despite the reverses she has suffered.

This was made clear by two development. Chang Kai-Shek, president of the Chinese Nationalist Government, who was going immediately to Manchuria, and the Ministry of War made public a message from Chang Hsueh-Liang, deposed governor of the province, saying that he had put all his strength at the disposal of General Ma Chuan-Tan, Chinese commander in the field.

Included in Chang Hsueh-Liang's troops, the war ministry said, are 10,000 artillerymen who are being brought from the Russian border.

Prize Money In Cattle and Dairy Products Shared By Westerners

Calgary, Alta.—The cattle and dairy products were the centre of attraction in agricultural judging at the Royal Winter Fair. Again illustrating the professional character of the prize money was witnessed.

The junior was awarded to the Canadian Pacific Railway property farm at Strathmore, Alberta, on C. Koa Farnchild. Reserve junior was carried off by Hayes and Company of Calgary, on H. John Dekker.

Many other prizes were made a stellar showing in the butter awards with the championship trophy for the highest aggregate score going to the Manitoba Co-operative Creameries, of Winnipeg. The creameries, of Brandon, Manitoba, won an aggregate for the highest individual score. In the dairy butter section, Mrs. A. R. Bell, Winnipeg, Manitoba, took first. Total winnings Manitoba was followed by Saskatchewan, Ontario and Alberta in that order.

Britain Pays Debts

Bank of England Makes Full Payment To United States

New York, N.Y.—The Herald Tribune said that the amount of money was entirely out of debt to the federal reserve system of the United States on October 31, "having apparently paid off every dollar of the $125,000,000 credit which fell due on that day."

The Herald-Tribune says this fact is disclosed in the federal reserve board's current monthly review, released for publication.

Farm and Labor Party

Single Government In Alberta

Edmonton, Alta.—Single government for the three prairie provinces should be sought by united efforts of farm and labor organizations in the west, advises A. J. Macauley, president of the western section of the Canadian (Saskatchewan section). He told the convention of United Farmers of Manitoba that prairie government was costing entirely too much.

Leaders of the 300,000 member farm and labor organizations in the west, into politics, Mr. Macauley said farmers of Saskatchewan believed they could co-operate with the Independent Labor Party on an economic policy aimed at meeting conditions for the welfare of workers.

"It is the time we get down to real economic issues," Mr. Macauley concluded. "We must avoid slippery politics and endeavour to do the work of the people in the best way west. Political parties controlled campaign funds. There is every possibility of a conference in the near future of agriculturists representing the area from Quebec to the Pacific Coast to set up a national fiscal policy to aid agriculture."

Toronto, Ont.—Leading honors in the spring wheat classes at the Royal Winter Fair went to Alberta. The first six placings except fourth, out of nine prizes went to exhibitors from that province. This is the most important event in the seed department of this show, and really represents the best wheat growing in Canada. There were over 70 entries this year and all entries were made on the outstanding variety, "Reward," a wheat originated by the Dominion Experiment Station. The winners were: First, J. H. Smith, Pincher Creek; second; William Taylor, Grand Prairie; third; George Canfield, Wild Rose, Sask.; fourth; Fred Avery, Lethbridge; fifth; W. H. EMPIRE GOODS TO BE EXEMPT UNDER NEW LAW

London, Eng.—Canadian goods will not be taxed under the National Government's anti-dumping legislation but one exception, since 1892. Paul Munro, Liberal, was elected to the Ontario Legislature for the riding of South Wellington. His majority came from the attic window of her Dover, Del., home, led Miss Anna June Cannon to one of the highest scientific honors here.

Miss Cannon, a student with the Home Draper medal at the National Academy of Sciences, is the first woman to win this award for scientific achievement.

The resolution would grant to the President of the Board of Trade power to impose a maximum duty of one-half per cent. on imports of products.

But Hon. H. B. Smith, Conservative, parliamentary secretary for the Board of Trade, explained no Canadian or other Dominion products would be affected.

"The Dominions are to have a preference," he asserted amid cheers, "and it is to be one of one hundred per cent."

There would be no complaint concerning the treatment of Dominions products, said the parliamentary secretary.

Charles Williams, Conservative, introduced an amendment which would provide that duties against British Empire products would not exceed two per cent. on imports of similar foreign products. This would represent, he explained, a preference of one-third for the Dominions but, at the same time, hoped the Government would waive the empire goods would be excluded entirely from the scope of the legislation.

There was need for no alarm, replied Mr. H. B. Smith. "I have already met the decision, and I am not going to argue that no articles which are empire products will be charged a duty under the bill." The Williams' amendment then was withdrawn.

The measure was an emergency one members of the Government frankly admitted, designed to meet abnormal conditions. In advancing it both stages at the one sitting, the House disregarded its usual rule that a "second reading" would take "forthright," it was suggested by Hon. W. B. Hunter, Borden, president of the Board of Trade, as the House agreed to speed up its routine.

Mr. Munro, who was in the chair, said:

"I am sure the members of the House will be pleased to learn that the bill will be introduced in the Senate at an early date."

Mr. Munro's bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator King, a member of the United States Congressional Party visiting Canada under the aegis of William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to investigate the Canadian sales tax system.

—Germany's Crop Above Average

Berlin, Germany—Germany's grain production for 1931 includes 3,669,000 tons of wheat, 596,000 tons of rye, 1,000,000 tons of barley and 1,000,000 tons of oats.

The wheat crop was said to be 10 per cent. above last year's 140,000 tons and is 10 per cent. above the average for the last seven years.

—Ottawa Extends Warm Welcome To U.S. Visitors

Ottawa, Ontario—Canada officially welcomed the United States Congressional Party studying the Dominion system at a banquet tendered by Hon. H. C. G. Green, Minister of Finance.

From the left: Hon. Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister; Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, who is actively assisting the American party in its study of the Canadian political, social and international goodwill were expressed.

"We in Canada are here as interpreters between Great Britain and the United States," Sir George Perley declared. "We can do our best to be pleasant or more important than a pleasant or interpretive; because I believe that with the British Empire and the United States holding together we can accomplish something for peace and happiness in the world."

A strong belief in the Canadian sales tax system was indicated by Mr. Ryckman. "The nation has a deficit budget and it is not a nation that can hold on to its money for the sake of the nation's welfare," the Minister of National Revenue declared.

"Destiny has established Canada and the United States as neighbors," said Hon. G. E. Smith. "We are destined to be and remain neighbors for ever and a day. We are destined to be neighbors as long as the grass grows, and as long as the water flows. We would not slip into golden chain of entanglement."

The dinner tendered by the Government concluded the first day of the stay in the capital of the Congressional Party who visited Canada under the aegis of Hon. W. B. Hunter, Borden, publisher. All members of the Dominion cabinet in Ottawa, were at the head table with the United States Minister and leading members of the visiting party.

EMPIRE BROADCASTING

Study Agricultural Problems

Delegates From Alberta To Attend Meeting In Toronto

Edmonton, Alberta—Prominent Alberta business men, including Mr. J. H. Browne, will attend meeting in Toronto on December 27 which has been called by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of discussing possibilities of the formation of a Canadian institute of agriculture.

The functions of the proposed institute would include a thorough and continuous study of agricultural problems and the promotion of trade between Canada and other countries, and the dissemination of information as to quantity, quality and sales requirements of these individual markets. President of the British Broadcasting Corporation, who has a station in the city, was present to witness the award ceremony to the winners.

Right Hon. J. H. Whitley, Chairman of the British Broadcasting Corporation, who has a station in the city, was present to witness the award ceremony to the winners. The station is under construction to which will be added a new transmitter. The British Empire music band, whose wave lengths will be used in order to provide the best reception under varying conditions.

Girl Wins Scientific Honors

Astronomer At Harvard Observatory

Awarded Henry Draper Medal

New Haven, Conn.—Development of a gamma-ray detector for gamma rays from the attic window of her Dover, Del., home, led Miss Anna June Cannon to one of the highest scientific honors here.

Supported by heavy attendance from the north of the province where favorable crops have been harvested, the "no" resolution, based on present economic conditions, was approved. For the first time in the farm body's history, Dauphin, 175 miles northwest of Winnipeg, was chosen as venue of the new convention. Two northerners, J. W. P. Dauphin and Fred Downing of Kelowna, were re-elected to the presidency and vice-presidency.

Premier John Bracken, Attorney General W. J. Major and Municipal Councilor W. J. McLean spoke to the delegates who a few hours before had taken the stand that the Manitoba legislature should be a "superior municipal council without political affiliation." Too, John Queen, leader of the Liberal Labor group in the legislature, addressed the convention.

"We can beat this depression if we are prepared to work together and share the burden, to adopt the British code of economic sacrifice and be prepared to meet the needs of the people," Premier Bracken. War debts, tariffs, over-production and labor-saving devices, he believed, were the causes of the existing depression and when measures to meet the problem, he said, were taken, the nation had not been under review.

No Foundation For Report

Government Not Prohibiting Importation Of Natural Gas Into Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—As far as he can be learned here there is no present basis for a report appearing in an Eastern Canadian financial paper that the Dominion Government is preparing to prohibit the importation of natural gas into Canada.

No recent move has been made in this direction, but in a speech on the budget at the last session, suggestions were made that such action be taken. They did not receive very serious consideration and since then the matter has not been under review.

Trade Policy Suggested

U.S. Senate Would Welcome One Mutually Beneficial

Ottawa, Ont.—A Senate committee has been the best customer for United States products; and I should be very glad to see a policy pursued mutually beneficial to both countries and which would increase the trade between Canada and the United States," so stated Hon. W. H. King, Democratic United States Senator from Utah, and prominent member of the finance committee.

Mr. King is a member of the United States Congressional Party visiting Canada under the aegis of William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to investigate the Canadian sales tax system.

—Outline of the recent proposal for redistributing and adoption of proportional representation in Manitoba saw no less than $100,000,000 annually affected by the measure.

The convention voted its endorsement of the plan, which would see the number of Manitoba members from 55 to 35. The bill was introduced in the House of Commons from 10 to seven, with one member each for Brandon, St. Boniface, The Pas and Rupert's Land, and three members from each of eight rural districts.
